DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: status of the related application must be provided.

Appropriate correction is required.

2. Applicant's indication of enclosed PTO-form-1449 in paper 1 has been acknowledged. However, the PTO Form-1449 has not been found in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. Claims 6, 9, and 15-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 6, "handle facilitating gripping" is confusing.

In claims 9 and 18, "like" is vague and indefinite.

In claim 15, lines 6-7, it is not clear whether or not new fingers are being referred. In line 8, "vibrator" should read as --a vibrator--.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 3764

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b). Therefore, this application is examined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

5. Claims 1-3, 5, and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Rowe (836,217).

Rowe teaches a forceps having fingers 3, handle 11, and vibrating means 4 (figures 1 and 2).

6. Claims 7-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Yokoi (5,018,511).

Yokoi teaches a massager unit comprising fingers 13 being connected to a vibrator (10A, 25, 22, 26).

7. Claims 1-10, 13-19, and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kuznets et al (6,251,089).

Art Unit: 3764

Kuznets teaches a plurality of resilient fingers 271 (figures 9a-b), a handle 50, and a vibrator 56 (figure 3a).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claims 11, 12, 20, and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kuznets et al.

Kuznets does not explicitly disclose that the fingers comprising electrically conductive material, i.e., copper wire. However, the feature of choosing a particular material, i.e., copper for the fingers is considered as an obvious design choice, since the copper is a well known material in the art.

Double Patenting

10. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Art Unit: 3764

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-4 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-26 of U.S. Patent No. 6,309,365. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the difference between the patented claims and the proposed application claims are minor and obvious from each other. The instant claims are broader version of the patented claims (i.e. the instant claims 1-4 do not require the "consisting essentially of" limitation as in the patented claims 1 nor the particular shape as described in the patented claim 19). Any infringement over the patent would also infringe over the instant claims. In the instant claims, the structural elements are included in the patented claims 1-26. Hence, the instant claims do not differ from the scope of the patented claims 1-26. In 214USPQ 761, In re Van Ornum and Stang, broad claims in the continuing application were held to be obvious double patenting over previously narrow claims.

11. Claims 5-22 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-26 of U.S. Patent No. 6,309,365 (Lacey) in view of Eliachar et al (5,511,270). Lacey lacks a vibrator. However, Eliachar teaches a vibrator. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide Lacey's device with a vibrator as taught by Eliachar, in order to provide an automatic massaging device.

Conclusion

Art Unit: 3764

12. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Chen (Des. 385,632), Erickson (2,113,444), Davenport (2,813,275), Scipione (3,603,320), and Kusnets et al (Des. 384,157) are cited to show different massagers.
